

GUJCOST Sponsored Two Days National Workshop on “Fundamentals of Clinical Pharmacy Practice”

16th & 17th September, 2017

Report

Maliba Pharmacy College, a constituent institute under Uka Tarsadia University had organized a two days National Workshop on “Fundamentals of Clinical Pharmacy Practice” on 16th & 17th September 2017 sponsored by GUJCOST, as an effort to focus on the growing fields of clinical pharmacy like pharmacovigilance, clinical research and medical writing which will help in resolving various drug related problems.

Over 108 delegates, comprising of UG and PG students, faculty member and researchers had participated in this workshop. Dr. Chandrashekhar Upasani, Principal, Shriman Sureshdada Jain College of Pharmacy, Nashik graced this occasion as the Chief Guest.

The workshop started with formal welcome of the delegates and guests by Dr. Shailesh A Shah, Principal, Maliba Pharmacy College and Dr. Dinesh R Shah, Provost, Uka Tarsadia University. There were two plenary sessions and two practical modules, where experts from academia and industry viz. Mr. Himanshu Patel, Asst. Professor, Department of Pharmacy Practice, JSS University and Mr. Kapil Jhavar, Associate director in Leadership, Quintiles respectively highlighted importance of Clinical Pharmacy Practice and Clinical Research by discussing case studies related to Adverse drug reaction, therapeutic interventions and drug information.

The workshop was concluded with the highlights of two days, feedback by delegates and vote of thanks by organizing secretaries, Dr. Bhavin A Vyas and Mr. Avinash D Khadela.

