

Report

Seminar on Role of Pharm. D in Indian Health care

Department of Pharmacy Practice, Maliba Pharmacy College, Uka Tarsadia University organized a seminar on 15th of December, 2021. The theme of this seminar was “Role of Pharm.D in Indian Health Care System”. Dr. Karthik Rakam; CEO and Co-founder of the Avenida academy and Dr. Ashvani Dhar, physician and Vice president at Kardiogenics, California, USA were invited as guest speakers for this seminar.

The all Pharm. D students except first year students have registered for this seminar. There were total 112 students attended this seminar at SRIMCA hall, UTU.

The seminar was started by 9 am morning with welcoming and introducing the guest speakers by faculties of pharmacy Practice. Dr. Ashish Mishra, Academic Director, MPC and Dr. Bhavin Vyas, Head, Dept. of Pharmacology & Pharmacy Practice, MPC; had first motivated the students and delivered a talk relevant to the theme.

The first session was conducted by Dr. Karthik Rakam. He guided the students on detailed interpretation of prescription of patients with polypharmacy and co-morbidities. He also elaborated the scope and future of Pharm. D course in India.

The second session was conducted by. Dr. Ashvani Dhar He is a passionate entrepreneur and likes to motivate youngsters. He spoke about Leadership. In his interactive session, he has covered how to build up qualities of leadership and innovation. He shared his own experience how a clinical professional can build up a successful start-up and carrier.

In nut-shell, the entire seminar was quite informative and proved to be a great learning opportunity for Pharm. D students.

