

I am really happy my daughter Kruti Gandhi has completed her graduation from maliba pharmacy college. It is glad to see that majority of the students are motivated to participate in a variety of curricular and co-curricular activities including workshops, conferences, sports, etc.

The professors in college strive to shape young minds so that they can excel in their studies the college has a well regularly upgraded library and it is ensured that all relevant material for studying is provided.

I extend my gratitude to this commendable institution and wish the college continues to prosper in the future.
